VISITOR

FARNBOROUGH
INTERNATIONAL 96

Welcome to Farnborough. The only place to meet people from 60 countries with $4 billion to spend.

Pack your passport now. The statistics above are from Farnborough '94 - And Farnborough '96 is going to be even bigger.

Farnborough is the world air show. In '94, no less than 64% of visitors came from outside the host country - more than for any other show.

Meet customers and suppliers; members of defence forces, government agencies and airlines; and the competition. Nowhere else brings together more influential people in the aerospace industry. See the aircraft, the engines, and the technologies of the future; catch up with the trends, the alliances, and the movements that will shape the future of aerospace.

Above all, Farnborough is the place to work: this year, the show has better business and communications facilities than ever before, for visitors and exhibitors alike.

So mark the calendar. Make your reservations. Organise your team.

In September 1996, Farnborough is the place to be.
