

In 12 Seconds, We Launched Aviation History... Today, We're Still First In Flight.

With the Wright Brothers and aviation pioneer Glenn Curtiss as founding fathers, the name "Curtiss-Wright" symbolizes innovation and progress. Curtiss-Wright Flight Systems, Inc. is a world leader in the design, production and overhaul of mechanical flight control components. Curtiss-Wright Flight Systems' products are at work in every Boeing commercial airplane in production, including the new 777.

Curtiss-Wright Accessory Services, a new division of Curtiss-Wright Flight Systems, now provides high quality repair and overhaul services on all Curtiss-Wright Flight Systems' manufactured products and on a wide range of other aircraft components including: pumps, valves, hydraulics, pneumatics, CSD/IDGs, electronics and electric motors.
