

A dramatic photograph of an F-15 Eagle fighter jet on a runway at sunset. The jet is silhouetted against a bright orange and red sky. The cockpit canopy is prominent, showing two pilots. The runway surface is visible in the foreground, reflecting the low sun. The overall mood is powerful and evocative.

The best war never happens.

The sweetest victory is always peace.

The surest peace is built

Who will

McDonnell Douglas is proud to build the F-15 Eagle, the most advanced air superiority and interdiction