WORLD AIRLINES

Caribbean Atlantic Airlines Inc (Caribair—Lines Aereas de Puerto Rico) was founded in the takeover of Powellson Air Service. An extensive network of domestic and international services is operated throughout the Caribbean region from its head office in Puerto Rico. Following the closure of the airline's operations on April 1, 1972, the CAB was notified of the proposed financial restructuring of the airline. The CAB approved the proposal to acquire Caribair's routes and other assets for $10 million. The CAB also approved the merger of Associated Airlines with Caribair on December 12, 1971. The airline was sold to American Airlines in December 1971.

Head Office: Isla Verde Airport, San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Cayman Airways Ltd was formed in July 1966 by the government of the Cayman Islands and operated as the national airline of the Cayman Islands. The airline was formed to serve the needs of the islands and to connect them with other countries in the region. Following a merger with LACSA in 1970, the airline became a part of the LACSA group. The airline's main hub is Grand Cayman Island, and it operates scheduled services to destinations in the Caribbean, Central America, and the United States. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: PO Box 11, Georgetown, Grand Cayman Island, British West Indies.

CDA—see Compania Dominicana de Aviacion C por A.

Ceskoslovenske Aerolinie (CSA), the national airline of Czechoslovakia, was founded in 1923. Ceskoslovenske Letecke Spolecnost (CLS) was founded in 1927, and the airline was formed as a result of the merger of the two airlines. The airline operates a wide range of services, including domestic, regional, and international flights. The airline has its main hub at Prague and operates a network of destinations in Europe and beyond. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: Prague 1, Ceskoslovenske Aerolinie, Zborovskeho 6, Czechoslovakia.

Cathay Pacific Airways Ltd was founded in 1946 and operates a wide range of services throughout the Asia-Pacific region. The airline operates a network of destinations in China, Hong Kong, and other countries in the region. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: Selsingdor Flyvepadds, 6600 Selsingdor, Denmark.

Civil Air Transport Co (CAT) was formed in 1971 as a result of the merger of SOKAO, the Soviet air lines, and SOKAO's successor, AVIAZAPAD. The airline operates a network of destinations in Russia and other countries in the region. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: Head Office: Selsingdor Flyvepadds, 6600 Selsingdor, Denmark.

Civil Aviation Administration of China (CAAC) is the general jurisdiction of the General Bureau of Civil Aviation, which controls all aviation activity in China. China Eastern Airlines is a successor to Skoga, which was founded in 1950 as a joint Soviet-Chinese enterprise. China Eastern Airlines is the state-owned airline of China, and it operates a wide range of services, including domestic, regional, and international flights. The airline has its main hub at Beijing and operates a network of destinations in China and beyond. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: 46 Chushan Road, N 2nd Section, Taipei, Taiwan.

Civil Aviation Administration of China is a state-owned enterprise in the People's Republic of China. The airline operates under the general jurisdiction of the General Bureau of Civil Aviation, which controls all aviation activity in China. China Eastern Airlines is a successor to Skoga, which was founded in 1950 as a joint Soviet-Chinese enterprise. China Eastern Airlines is the state-owned airline of China, and it operates a wide range of services, including domestic, regional, and international flights. The airline has its main hub at Beijing and operates a network of destinations in China and beyond. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: 46 Chushan Road, N 2nd Section, Taipei, Taiwan.

Civil Aviation Administration of China is a state-owned enterprise in the People's Republic of China. The airline operates under the general jurisdiction of the General Bureau of Civil Aviation, which controls all aviation activity in China. China Eastern Airlines is a successor to Skoga, which was founded in 1950 as a joint Soviet-Chinese enterprise. China Eastern Airlines is the state-owned airline of China, and it operates a wide range of services, including domestic, regional, and international flights. The airline has its main hub at Beijing and operates a network of destinations in China and beyond. The airline's aircraft fleet includes a variety of regional and medium-haul aircraft, including the Boeing 707-351B and the Airbus A310.

Head Office: 46 Chushan Road, N 2nd Section, Taipei, Taiwan.