Since National Air Law in most countries is largely based on International Conventions, this work is invaluable in any country which is a party to Conventions to which the U.K. is a Signatory or Contracting Party. Volume 1 contains narrative text; Volume 2 (loose-leaf) contains all relevant Conventions, Treaties, and U.K. statutes and subordinate legislation.

The Fourth Edition includes (1) a complete exposition and discussion of every facet of law, national and international, concerning aviation; (2) a complete rundown on the many important Conventions and Treaties, together with the actual text and status of each one; (3) citations throughout of US Aviation Reports as well as U.K. decisions; (4) references to Commonwealth and U.S. legislation as well as U.K. statute law; (5) an explanation of the status, organisation, rights and duties of the British Air Corporations.

This work is essential for all lawyers engaged in aviation business.
