Equip your aircraft with a Curtis & Green Videocassette Television System and enjoy the most modern development of In Flight Entertainment. Modular construction with remote control facilities ensures flexibility of location in the aircraft interior. Monitors are installed in the ceiling, in a convenient bulkhead, on a table top or as part of a self-contained Seatrail mounted entertainment unit.

Curtis & Green AVTS is the first airborne colour television system to be fully accepted by CAA, for operating during all phases of the flight and enables Video cassettes pre-recorded in PAL/NTSC/SECAM to be replayed.

The recent addition of light weight VHS and BETAMAX video cassette players to the U-MATIC equipment provides a comprehensive world-wide coverage of formats.
