

YOUR SUCCESS AND OURS
CAN BE SUMMED UP IN ONE WORD—CONFIDENCE.

For airframe manufacturers and commercial carriers there are three basic tenets of business: Safety. Efficiency. And on-time service. Customers demand nothing less. Which is why after reams of statistics and technical data have been analyzed, the best relationships boil down to one simple notion—the confidence that you can deliver.

At AlliedSignal Air Transport Avionics we're intently listening to you and meeting your expectations to instill that same sense of confidence. Confidence that our avionics are unsurpassed in quality and performance. Confidence in our technical expertise and understanding of your needs. Confidence that you've chosen a dedicated team with a long-term commitment to help make your equipment the most advanced and safest in the air.

Call us to find out more. After all, there's nothing like starting your day on a confident note.
